*Information on opening BSDA Account

What is a Basic Service DEMAT Account?

- Basic Service Demat Account (BSDA) is a special type of DEMAT account that was introduced in 2012 by SEBI (Securities and Exchange Board of India). It requires much less of an investment compared to a general Demat Account and is mainly intended for small investors who are not keen on regularly investing in Stocks, ETFs, mutual funds, etc. It also reduces the burden on investors who have a DEMAT account with smaller portfolios of Up to Rs. 10 lakhs..

What is the eligibility criteria of BSDA?

- While BSDA can come along with several benefits, there are certain criteria to be met in order to be eligible to open a Basic Service Demat Account. Here is the list of the criteria to keep in mind.
 1. The investor should be the sole owner of the account.
 2. The investor should not have any other Demat account.
 3. Only one Demat account can be held under the BSDA category.
 4. The total value of the BSDA shares should not exceed Rs. 10 lakhs at any point.
 5. If the investor has a joint account, he/she should not be the first holder of the account.

In case the Demat accounts with BSDA facility does not meet the listed eligibility as per guideline issued by SEBI or any such authority at any point of time, such BSDA accounts will be converted to BSDA Account without further reference to the respective customers.

If the value of holding in such BSDA exceeds the prescribed criteria at any date, the DPs may levy charges as applicable to regular accounts (non-BSDA) from that date onwards.

*As per SEBI directive, the charge structure for BSDA will be based on value of holdings in the accounts as indicated below:

- I. No AMC shall be levied, if the value of holding is up to Rs. 4,00,000.
- II. For the value of holding from Rs. 4,00,000 to Rs. 10,00,000, AMC not exceeding Rs 100 will be charged.
- III. If the value of holding in such BSDA exceeds Rs. 10,00,000 at any date, the DPs may levy charges as applicable to regular accounts (non-BSDA) from that date onwards

It is emphasized that other than AMC as specified above, BSDA shall be treated at par with non-BSDA for the purpose of levying charges for various other services and DPs shall not levy higher charges to BSDA.

The value of holding shall be determined by the DPs on the basis of the daily closing price or NAV of the securities or units of mutual funds, as the case may be. Where such price is not available, the last traded price may be taken into account and for unlisted securities other than units of mutual funds, face value may be taken in to account. The value of suspended securities may not be considered for the purpose of determining eligibility of demat account as BSDA.

If the value of holding in such BSDA exceeds the prescribed criteria at any date, the DPs may levy charges as applicable to regular accounts (non-BSDA) from that date onwards.
